Introduction

▶ Isar Institutions Since 1994 The work has begun. Of the organizationProgramMache The focus is on the development of women. We have started our social work by solving people's problems. We have 25 years of experience in rural development by implementing various initiatives such as women development, adolescent girls development, panchayat raj, watershed management, sustainable agriculture, community based rehabilitation, health awareness, nursery, rural sanitation, water supply and organic farming. Watershed development was our main program. Now we have decided to turn to the development of the region to include the respectable section of the society i.e. Dalits, dryland landlords, farmers, tribal and landless women and the disabled in our program. We have an emphasis on food and life security programs. We have reached out to 1000 farmers through this initiative. We have also built their capacity by conducting various training programs.

RuralCNRI (Federation) has been established at the national level to work in development. Dr. Mohan Dharia is a senior leader and president of the National Federation. A district level unit has also been set up. I Divakar Bhoyar (Director) himself is the District President. Yavatmal district division has a total of 135 members. The federation has given importance to strengthening the organizations by involving them in government programs.

Yavatmal7 km from the city. Isar has set up a well-equipped training center at Waki village in the distance. A total of 100 trainees will be provided residential facilities.

➤ Widow Women: -

Through Kisan Mitra Network, 73 women from Kalamb taluka were organized and given food and groceries that would last them for 2 months in Kovid period. Widowed women have benefited from the government scheme. The widow's domestic issues were resolved. The unification of their economic progress gave them the benefit of starting a home-based business. The ruling court agitated for their rights.

Formed self-help groups for widowed suicide victims and provided them loans for agriculture through banks. Approved government schemes for widows' children to get scholarships and free education for further education. Widows who committed suicide were encouraged to engage in collective farming and were given a demo of organic farming. Built on their farms. Gave compost fertilizer. Provided seeds to the field for sowing.

➤ Disability Rehabilitation Program:

▶ Block Level DPO Members Meeting:

Strengthening the organization of Divyang people, enabling them to plan the meeting properly, what to discuss in the meeting and how to build a network with other people has enabled Divyang people at district level, taluka level as well as village level through meetings.

▶ Capacity Building:

Through capacity building, the organization worked to bring together people with disabilities to create awareness among them about leadership skills, knowledge of the law, information on government schemes and the rights of people with disabilities.

► World Disability Day:

World Disability Day is celebrated around the world on December 3 every year. To justify this day, the organization aims to raise awareness and acceptance of people with disabilities, as well as encourage acceptance and compassion for people with disabilities, self-esteem, rights, empowerment and a positive attitude towards society.
